University of Luxembourg

7th International Conference of Dalcroze Studies - „Building bridges through music and movement: Inspire, Imagine, Transcend”

Join us for the ICDS7—a unique global gathering celebrating the dynamic relationship between music, movement and human expression. This exciting event brings together leading educators, researchers, performers and practitioners to exchange ideas, share experiences and explore the lasting impact of the Dalcroze approach across disciplines and cultures.

Why Attend?

1. Connect with a Global Community

Network with passionate individuals from diverse fields who share a commitment to embodied learning and artistic exploration.

2. Inspire Your Practice

Discover new research, methodologies, and teaching strategies that can transform your work in education, performance or therapy.

3. Experience Hands-On Learning

Participate in interactive workshops led by internationally renowned Dalcroze specialists.

4. Engage with Cutting-Edge Research

Be at the forefront of developments in music education, somatic practice and interdisciplinary collaboration.

5. Celebrate Artistic Innovation

Enjoy live performances, creative sessions and opportunities to showcase your own work in a supportive, inclusive environment.

Don't miss this chance to be part of a vibrant international dialogue on the future of music, movement, and education!
